Transnational civil society in Asia

Edition 6, 2021

DOI: 10.37839/MAR2652-550X6.8

This webinar formally launches 'Transnational Civil Society in Asia: The Potential of Grassroots Regionalization' (Avenell & Ogawa, eds.) which will be published July 2021, by Routledge.

This book addresses an understudied topic in the current civil society scholarship – how transnational interactions among civil society actors in Asia are helping to strengthen common democratic values.

The webinar discusses three cases from the book, along with a brief conceptual introduction.

Presenters

- Professor Akihiro Ogawa: Professor of Japanese Studies, Asia Institute, University of Melbourne.
- Akina Mikami: PhD Candidate, Asia Institute, University of Melbourne.
- Dr Salim Kassim-Lakha: Honorary Senior Fellow, School of Social and Political Sciences, University of Melbourne.
- Dr Pradeep Taneja: Senior Lecturer in Asian Studies, School of Social and Political Sciences, University of Melbourne.

Moderator

- Melissa Conley Tyler: Research Associate, Asia Institute, University of Melbourne.

Main image credit: Artem Beliaikin/Flickr.